

Pinelands Property Showcase

How is it different to other property sites and publications?

There are many websites, newspapers and other publications advertising property, but for the buyer specifically looking for Pinelands it means combing through many listings covering many areas, and visiting many agency websites to find all that's available in the suburb they want - Pinelands.

Pinelands Directory Property Showcase specialises in properties in and around Pinelands.

It offers all property types, for sale or rent, from many agencies and private sellers in one place. That makes it quick and easy for the client to see a wide range of properties available around Pinelands, all in one convenient place.

Our comprehensive coverage of Pinelands life on our main Pinelands Directory website will also inform and attract the ideal potential clients for you.

Let us show your property to our visitors on the Pinelands Directory website

The Pinelands Directory is an established and professional community website with many regular visitors living or working here or having an interest in the suburb.

We cover news, events and opinions in our suburb, and already showcase many local businesses, so we rank highly on web searches about Pinelands and attract quality visitors to our website.

With the launch of our Property Showcase, we will attract new visitors looking for homes, garages, offices and apartments for sale or rent around Pinelands.

We also publish a monthly email newsletter, The Monthly Muse, containing local news and information mixed in with discreet promotional editorial about our subscribing clients.

We have working relationships with the local councillor, ratepayers association and Community Policing Forum. As a community service, we host and maintain free websites for them, as well as the local library and the many non-profit and charity organisations based in the area.

All this attracts a quality audience, exactly the people likely to be in the market for property around Pinelands!

Subscriptions: An Ideal Estate Agency Package!

With your subscription you get a dedicated page with details about your local office and agents. You then add as many property listings as you need at a reduced rate. You also get access to Featured Property Slots.

Each listing you take under your subscription lets you showcase any property, for sale or rent, for a period of 12 months. You can change the property displayed for that listing at any time. We allow for a change to each listing once a month on average at no extra cost. To make it easy for you to manage and rotate your listings we are flexible on this, but should the number of changes requested be excessively frequent, we reserve the right to charge a fee of R100 per change for frequent out of package changes.

Casual Listings

Ideal and easy for private sellers or one-off advertisers! When you have a single property to sell or rent you can take out a listing on a monthly basis. You get prominent exposure with a photo gallery for one set fee for a month.
